

The American Indian Law Journal, published by the Seattle University School of Law, is currently accepting submissions for potential publication in the fall 2016 and spring 2017 issues. The American Indian Law Journal serves as a vital online resource providing high quality articles on issues relevant to Indian law practitioners and scholars across the country.

The deadline for submissions for the fall issue is July 15, 2016. The deadline for submissions for the spring issue is January 15, 2017. The editing process for publication begins soon after these dates for each respective issue. The American Indian Law Journal respectfully requests that authors please use footnotes rather than endnotes. All footnotes should conform to the 20th edition of The Bluebook.

The American Indian Law Journal accepts articles and abstracts for consideration from students, practitioners, and law school faculty members. For more information or to submit an article, please contact Brenda L. George, Editor-in-Chief, sticeb@seattleu.edu.

