

THE CHALLENGES OF CULTURE, GOVERNANCE, AND RESPECT IN INDIAN COUNTRY

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH DAKOTA NATIVE AMERICAN LAW STUDENT ASSOCIATION (NALSA) WILL HOST 15TH BIENNIAL INDIAN LAW SYMPOSIUM

March 21 and 22, 2018

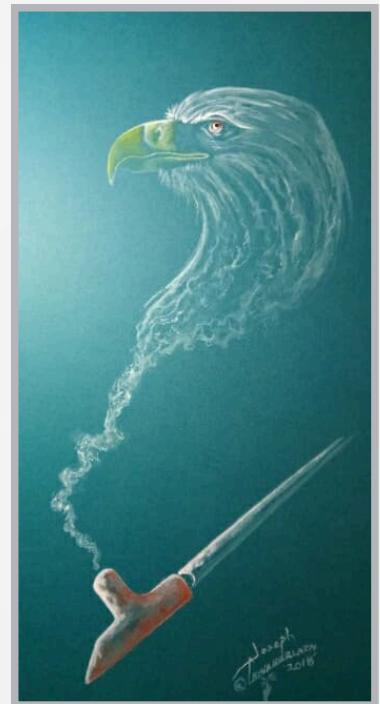

Courtroom of the USD School of Law • Vermillion, SD

The event begins Wednesday evening at 7:00 p.m. with a traditional prayer by Gene Thin Elk and an honor song by the Oyate Singers. Professor Frank Pommersheim will present opening remarks, with Keynote Speaker, Patrice Kunesch to follow.

The symposium continues at 9:00 a.m. on Thursday, March 22, 2018. Panel discussion topics will include discussion of legal issues related to Tribal Governance and Culture and Tribal Activism. Panelists include South Dakota State Senator Troy Heinert, Flandreau Santee Sioux Tribal Attorney Seth Pearman, Water Protector Legal Collective Executive Director Terry Janis, Rosebud Sioux Tribe Tribal Council Member of the Grass Mountain Community, Rita Means, Indian law attorney, Leonika R. Charging, Coordinator of the Native American Studies/Assistant Professor Dr. Elise Boxer, and Sherman Marshall, Chief Tribal Judge for the Rosebud Sioux Tribe.

The NALSA Indian Law Symposium has been held biennially for three decades, making it the longest-running Indian law symposium in the nation.

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

UNIVERSITY OF
SOUTH DAKOTA
SCHOOL OF LAW

If you have a disability and need assistance to participate, please contact Disability Services 48 hours prior to attendance of the event at 605-677-6389 or email disabilityservices@usd.edu. This document is available in alternative formats, upon request from Disability Services.